Fonte Tavina

The purity of nature, preserved in every bottle.

Founded in 1967 by Amos Tonoli, Fonte Tavina is one of the historic Italian realities in the natural mineral water sector.

Located in Salò, in the heart of the Alto Garda Natural Park, the company was born from the desire to enhance a unique resource: mineral water that flows from an ancient glacial basin, naturally pure and rich in properties that have always characterized its quality.

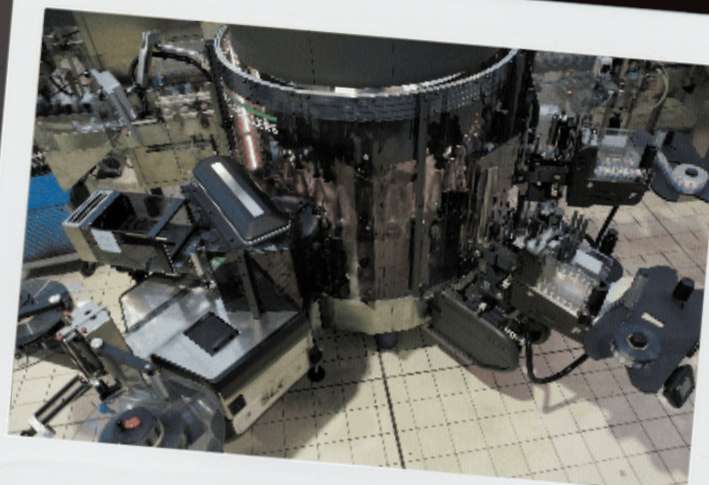

Over the years, Fonte Tavina has built its identity combining respect for the territory with a constant search for innovation. The company has invested in the development of cutting-edge plants and technologies, always keeping at the center the objective of preserving the original characteristics of water and of guaranteeing high quality standards throughout the entire production process.

Today Fonte Tavina produces the Fonte Tavina, Fonte Allegra, Fonte Linda and Fonte Novella brands, offering a wide range of natural mineral waters that express the link with the territory of origin.

Attention to quality, commitment to sustainability and continuous technological evolution represent the values that guide the company on a daily basis and consolidate its presence on the market.

The search for quality and constant attention to every detail led to the meeting between Fonte Tavina and P.E. Labellers, giving rise to a collaboration that has continued for over 20 years.

Today, P.E. Labellers technologies support the production of the various references of natural mineral water. The installed solutions provide the precision and flexibility required to meet the company's production needs, helping to enhance every bottle while preserving its identity, with the capacity to label up to 450,000 bottles per day and up to 50 million pieces per year.
